Your Presenter

Jose initially trained as a physiotherapist in France, then studied Osteopathy in the UK and France. Over the course of 26 years in practice he has developed a technique of great precision with the emphasis on safety, comfort and effectiveness. He has taught HVLA techniques in France and New Zealand for many years putting Jose among the elite of technical manipulators and teachers in his field.

This course will present the philosophy of how, when and why to use HVLA techniques. The principles of combined levers will be presented, this will be very useful for those practitioners who wish to learn how to refine their techniques further to improve their clinical effectiveness.
